

Seal Graphics

The complete solution to image finishing

SEAL Graphics

The SEAL brand has been synonymous with quality mounting and laminating products for over thirty years and has evolved through acquisition of complimentary businesses that make it today, the global market leader in wide format print finishing solutions. With a diverse portfolio spanning laminating films, adhesives, display solutions, wide format laminators, superwide liquid coaters and liquid laminates, SEAL offers the widest choice of image finishing products in the world.

Seal Showroom, Bückeburg, Germany

SEAL supplies to the wide format graphics market predominantly through authorised distributors. This worldwide network of SEAL distributors offers quality service and solutions to end user markets such as digital print providers, photo-labs, tradeshow houses, sign makers, screen printers, copy shops, quick printers and service bureaus.

Global presence

SEAL is a Brand of Neschen AG. The Neschen AG stretches globally through a collection of manufacturing sites, distribution centres and sales offices to service a truly international marketplace. Neschen AG headquarters are located in Bückeburg, Germany.

The European office is home to a 250m² showroom featuring the complete SEAL machine & consumable range. It also houses a fully equipped training centre where distributors and end users are provided with application and hands-on machine trainings for the SEAL Academy.

The production sites are located in Bückeberg, Germany and Basildon, UK. The European facilities have got a wide range of production machines including coating, laminating and converting. Other manufacturing sites are located in Elkridge, USA and Sun Prairie, USA where the laminators are being designed and manufactured. Sales managers develop the graphical markets together with strong distributors worldwide.

Innovating for an evolving market

SEAL has pioneered innovative equipment that meets the evolving market demand for low-cost, fast and simple processing of almost every type of print imaginable. Unique products like Stoplight Backing Film and Jet Guard Deep Crystal led the way forward on cutting edge applications for powerful flexible displays in the ever changing world of presentation and display graphics. Today, SEAL boasts the most comprehensive and diverse range of finishing products in the world. Always focusing on its core strengths, each SEAL product is developed to compliment other SEAL products for compatibility and peace of mind performance. Traditional mounting and laminating has evolved to fast and effortless print finishing using either a combination of laminat-

ing films and adhesives or liquid coating systems. In its quest for excellence, SEAL continuously tests its products with other industry manufacturers products and has developed strategic warranty programs with printer partners to provide the ultimate finished product and choice.

So whether you are already offering finishing products or considering it for the first time, consider SEAL, the complete solution to image finishing.
