Vitamin E (Alpha-Tocopherol)

- is an excellent vegetarian source of omega 3 fatty acids. It has undergone cold-pressed out of Camelina Sativa Seed. Also known as the "BETTER FLAX" due to its being highly stable against oxidation as it contains significant amount of natural Vitamin E (tocopherols) such as gamma and alpha tocopherols acting as natural antioxidants that an ordinary flax oil do not possess.
- it contains plant-based omega 3 fatty acids that is pure, transfat-free, non-GMO and does not have traces of PCB, Mercury and some heavy metals or contaminants that might be detected to other omega 3 sources.
- aside from being plant-based it also contains significant amount of omega 3 fatty acid (ALA) Alpha Linolenic Acid C 18:3, omega 6 fatty acid (LA) Linolenic Acid C 18:2, omega 9 (OA) Oleic Acid C 18:9 being balanced naturally.
- Camelina Sativa is natural, sustainable and traceable to nature. Our Camelina grower is using today's most sustainable and environmentally responsible farming practices. Camelina's argonomic properties make it a low-input crop. Growers can produce Camelina using less fertilizers and pesticides of organic based. Our Camelina Sativa farm and crushing plant is located on the Saskatchewan praries, near the Village of Macoun.
